

Foreword	6
Introduction	8
Chapter 1: Evolution of a profession	11
Growth in numbers.....	12
Changing demographics.....	13
The veterinary club movement.....	15
Veterinarians in the world: One Health.....	20
Veterinarians as consultants.....	22
Emergence of the specialists.....	27
Relationship with the pharmaceutical industry.....	30
Allied professions: Veterinary nursing in Aotearoa New Zealand.....	31
Allied professions: Large animal veterinary technicians.....	34
Chapter 2: Veterinary research	37
The role of research in large animal clinical practice.....	38
The role of clinical research in companion animals.....	42
Chapter 3: Animal health and welfare – challenges and achievements	55
Animal welfare legislation in New Zealand.....	58
Bovine tuberculosis.....	60
Bovine brucellosis.....	61
Clostridial disease.....	62
Deer velvetting.....	63
Equine practice advances.....	64
Embryo transfer technology.....	65
Facial eczema: Black cloud pointed way to the cause.....	67
Five Domains Model for assessing animal welfare.....	69
Foot-and-mouth disease.....	70
Hydatids eradication: A rare achievement.....	75
Inductions: Long journey to a complete ban.....	76
Leptospirosis: New Zealand conditions favourable for this disease.....	78
Live exports.....	83
Microchipping pets.....	86

Mycoplasma bovis: A work in progress 87

Salmonella Brandenburg: Response a true team effort..... 88

Scrapie: Kept at bay despite near misses..... 89

Tail docking ban: Persistence paid off 90

Theileria orientalis (Ikeda): Model response based on mutual respect and trust 92

Wormwise: Seeking out sustainable parasite management 94

Chapter 4: The New Zealand Veterinary Association 1923–2023 97

Beginnings 98

Support 99

Administration and finances 99

A shift to Wellington..... 100

NZVA presidents, honorary life members and award recipients..... 102

Premises and their openings 103

Key roles 105

NZVA member services and resources 108

Governance 135

Chapter 5: Through the lens of leadership..... 137

John Filmer: Productivity in focus..... 138

Alan Laing: Looking back and forward from mid-century..... 138

Wally Webster: Clubs and private practices..... 139

David MacFarlane: Enhancing performance 140

Bob Roach: Value of PR 140

Jack McLean: Education and research..... 140

David MacFarlane: The content of veterinary education..... 141

Tom Wallace: An era of rapid strides 141

David Caldwell: Club practice establishment phase over 142

Gordon Edgar: Veterinary art and science 142

Malcolm Buddle: Exotic disease risk a looming concern..... 143

Geoff Sommerville: Role as advisers needed recognition 143

Jack James: Breeding improvement directions 144

Humphrey Rees: Working for animals and people..... 144

Arnold ‘Scaler’ Blakely: Oil on troubled waters..... 145

Eric Shortridge: More continuing education needed 145

Reg Trounson: Don’t waste clinical experience..... 146

Russell Dreadon: Tomorrow belongs to us	146
Alex Familton: Rural-urban drift concerns	147
Barbara Smith: Expanding horizons	147
Russell Steel: Reflecting on a golden age of achievement.....	148
Harry Dewes: Counting our blessings	149
Brian Cooper: Welfare law deficiency recognised	149
Russell Dun: Uncertain future for VSC, recruitment	149
Ron Jackson: Ministry criticised	150
Ralph Slaughter: Loud, proud and professional.....	151
Graham Wallace: Income concerns; future opportunities.....	152
Chris Kelly: Diversify!	152
Bob Gumbrell: Welfare, continuing education	154
Roger Marchant: Staying relevant, embracing change.....	154
Bob Duckworth: Staying at the technology forefront	155
Catherine Smith: Welfare thread runs through career	156
Jim Edwards: A global view	157
Adrian Rhodes: Pan Pacific conference a highlight.....	158
Ross Blanks: High-level care comes at a price.....	158
Susan Morris: Looking at wider roles for vets	159
Jenny Weston: Putting employees first	160
Lewis Griffiths: Profitability and independence key issues.....	161
Chris Hutchings: New era for dog identification	161
Ross Woods: Strong leadership essential	162
Amanda Illston: Higher service levels, higher expectations.....	162
John Maclachlan: Protect vets' status as information sources.....	163
Richard Wild: Balancing welfare needs of people and animals	164
Gavin Sinclair: Consolidating changes	165
Steve Merchant: Understand where you add value	165
Caroline Robertson: Embrace retail, but don't rely on it	166
Peter Blaikie: After-hours cover a challenge	166
Grant McCullough: Further challenges lie ahead.....	167

Chapter 6: NZVA branches 169

Current branch network	170
Companion Animal Veterinarians	171
Complementary Veterinary Medicine	173
Dairy Cattle Veterinarians	174

Deer	176
Epidemiology, Food Safety, Animal Welfare and Biosecurity	178
New Zealand Equine Veterinary Association	179
Industry	182
Sheep and Beef Cattle Veterinarians	183
Wildlife Society	186
Chapter 7: Legislating and regulating	189
A legal framework for veterinary practice	190
Statutory organisations and other groups	192
Legislation that affects veterinary practice	194
Chapter 8: Government veterinary services	197
Veterinarians' involvement in biosecurity and food safety	198
Evolution of the registration of animal remedies in New Zealand	206
State-employed veterinarians	208
Chapter 9: Veterinary education	211
Getting started	212
Success at last	213
Developments since the 1960s	217
Curriculum review	220
Continuing professional development	222
EpiCentre	223
Wildbase	226
Chapter 10: Veterinary people	229
Deborah Samson: A student for life	231
Guy Oakley: From dairy cows to Kiwi conservation	233
Feature profile – Neil Bruère ONZM: Sheep veterinarian	237
William Peirson: Profile of a president	242
Matt Gumbrell: Mongolia trip a career highlight	243
Feature profile – Marjorie Orr: Strong compassion for animals marks career	246
Rachael Fouhy: Juggling demands of family and clients	249

Biographies
Ira Cunningham: Tenacious, dedicated foundation dean	251
Lewis Fitch: Veterinary scientist, entrepreneur and businessman	253
Cyril Hopkirk: Scientist, diagnostician, researcher, disease control consultant	255
Allan Leslie: Veterinary club movement pioneer	257
Feature profile – Hans Andersen: Accreditation the realisation of a dream	259
Bex Presow: Every call is different	262
Corey Regnerus-Kell: Career offers diversity	263
Feature profile – Bob Jolly ONZM: Veterinary pathologist and researcher	265
Chris Kelly: Musings of a one-time equine veterinarian	268
Murray Gibb: The afterlife – reflecting on a post-veterinary career	271
Chapter 11: Beyond 100 – what lies before us	273
Global trends	274
The right skill set for a better future	275
Beyond 100 in a changing climate – mitigate or adapt?	276
Vet Futures Aotearoa	277
Technology enabling a better tomorrow	279
100 years of antimicrobial (and other) history	281
Internal parasites and drug resistance: The future is here	284
In conclusion	287
Acknowledgements	288
Index	290